Done in This State. State Librarian Gillis, of California, has Been inspecting Indiana's way of conducting a State library. Mr. Gillis, while journeving in this neighborhood, called on Librarian Henry, and was particularly interested in the method established here a few years ago, and which is still in vogue, of indexing newspapers. It is said that only three States carry on a system of indexing newspapers. These are Massachusetts, California and Indiana. At the Indiana library an index is kept of many important articles printed by the State papers. SENATOR HANNA'S GIFT SAID TO HAVE BEEN A GENEROUS CHECK.

How the Bride and Attendants Wer Gowned-Honeymoon to Be Spent at Monticello, Ill.

CLEVELAND, O., June 10 .- In intrinsic beauty and interest the wedding to-day at high noon of Miss Ruth Hanna and Mr. Joseph Medill McCormick, of Chicago, in St. Paul's Church, excelled any similar function ever held in Cleveland. St. Paul's Church was decorated with the utmost magnificence. The bridal party entered under an arch of white peonies and Deutzia, and the pews of the middle aisles were all marked with big bunches of the Deutzia. Juse before the"Lohengrin" wedding march was played to herald the approach of the bridal party President Roosevelt entered with Mrs. Hanna on his arm, followed by Miss Alice Roosevelt, with other members of the bride's family. The ushers preceded the maids. They were Howard M. Hanna, of Cleveland, a cousin of the bride; Joseph M. Patterson, of Chicago, a cousin of the groom; Robert cago; Ernest Minor, of Cincinnati; James Barney, of New York; William Williams, of Philadelphia, and Malcolm McBride, of Cleveland. The maids approached the altar two by two. Miss Florence Cobb and Miss Mary Hopkins, of Washington, leading. Following were Miss Claire Hanna, of Cleveland, a cousin of the bride, with Miss Adelaide Hamilton, of Chicago; Miss Virginia Johnston, of Pittsburg, with Miss Frances Lewis, of Portland, Ore.; Miss Laura McGinley, of Pittsburg, with Miss

Lucia McCurdy, of Cleveland, cousin of the The maids were gowned alike in exquisite costumes of white silk mull over pale green silk. The bodices were accordion plaited over silk, with transparent yoke of Valenciennes and point d'esprit lace. The skirts were accordion plaited and footed with an que flounce of the Valenciennes lace. The girdles were of pale green satin ribbon with long loops and ends. They wore white lace hats with medallion tops and with falls of many soft pale green ostrich feathers about the crown. The maid of honor's gown was like the maids, with the exception of the silk slip, which was white. The muli was made over white silk, the ribbons of white satin and the ostrich feather white. The maids and Miss McCurdy carried shower bouquets of white sweet peas with maidenhair fern. The bride walked with her father. Her gown was a creation of white peau de soie made princess, with bodice effect of real lace, with duchesse lace and hand embroidery in white chenille set with pearls. The sleeves were of the mull, with a fall of the lace. The trailing skirt was plain to the floor, with the exception of four insert falls of real lace, over each of which fell a spray of orange blossoms. She wore a veil over her face, caught in her hair with lilies of the valley and white orchids. The maids and maid of honor passed up the chancel steps and waited the bride at the altar. The groom and his best man, his brother, Mr. Rutherford McCormick, waited for the bride and her father at the chancel steps, where the betrothal cere-mony was performed by Bishop W. A. Leonard, when the bride and groom passed through the aisle formed by the bride's attendants to the altar. The bishop was assisted in the ceremony by Dr. Billings, of Groton, Mass., Dr. George H. McBrew and Rev. W. H. Jones, of this city. The music, which was of rare merit, was under the management of Mrs. Seabury C. Ford. The church was decorated with white peonies; five immense trees of the flowers standing in the chancel reached to the tops of the windows. The broad decorative scheme was set out with most pleasing effect by hundreds of white candles. The sides of the church were also elaborately decorated. The President and Miss Roosevelt were seated in the front pew on the Hanna side of the church, The ceremony was followed by a wedling breakfast served at "Glenmere," 150 guests being entertained. Among the outof-town guests at the breakfast were President Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt Postmaster General and Mrs. Payne with their niece, Miss Jones; Adjutant General and Mrs. Corbin, Senator and Miss Kane, Senator and Mrs. Wetmore and Senator and Mrs. Aldrich, Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rocke-The bride's table was placed in the family dining room and was done in white and green. Here were seated the wedding party and Miss Roosevelt. The other guests were served in a large tent placed between the lake and the house, with which it was connected by a canopied passage. The tent was decorated with flowers of various shades, the color scheme being broken at the numerous tables. President Roosevelt and Ambassador McCormick were seated at the same table. Hundreds of beautiful and costly gifts were received. The President's gift was a set of after-dinner coffee cups and saucers. The gift of Mrs. McKinley was a handsome vase of Italian ware. One of the most elegant gifts was a set of antique silver, which is supposed to be from the groom's parents and which was made in England in 1600. While no public announcement has been made concerning Senator Hanna's gift, it is understood to have been a check for a generous sum. Mrs. Hanna's gift was a rare string of pearls. Late this afternoon the newly-married couple left for Monticello, Ill., where they will spend their honeymoon, after which they will reside in Chicago. The groom is one of the editors of the Chicago Tribune. He is a son of Hon. Robert S. McCormick, ambassador to Russia, and a grandson of the late Joseph Medill, for many years owner and editor of the The President, Miss Roosevelt, Commander Cowles, U. S. N., and Secretary Loeb to-night left for Washington in a special train over the Pennsylvania Railroad. The train is due in Washington tomorrow afternoon. The evening was spent at the home of Senator Hanna. There was a good-sized crowd at the station to wave the President farewell, and he responded to the greetings by lifting his hat and bowing. The remaining guests at the wedding from Washington will leave at their convenience to-morrow. Many of the Chicago visitors left for the West to-night.

Janet Newlands Wedded. WASHINGTON, June 10 .- Miss Janet Newlands, daughter of Senator Newlands, of Nevada, was married to Dr. Bernard Johnston, of Washington, at Chevy Chase Church to-day. Owing to the recent death of Mrs. Newlands's sister, the wedding was a quiet one, only members of the bride's and groom's families being present.

MRS. JOSEPH MEDILL M'CORMICK Senator Hanna's daughter, who was married yesterday, PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS

The garden fete has been a favored form of entertainment with society folk in the East for several years, and last summer Indianapolis awoke to the fact that it was a delightful way of entertaining, offering a more attractive setting for prettily gowned women than almost any other kind of function. Given a well-kept lawn, with the usual flower beds and shrubbery, a perfect summer afternoon, a host has a background for her party, which all the efforts of decorators and florists cannot equal within doors. The garden fete given yesterday afternoon and evening by the Caroline Scott Harrison and the General Arthur St. Clair chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution was one of the prettiest things which has ever been given in the city. Mrs. William H. Coleman, regent of the older chapter, generously gave her house and grounds for the day, and the beautiful place lent itself easily to the simple decorations put up for the occasion. The lawn was a pretty sight in the afternoon, with its myriads of gay Japanese lanterns in grotesque shapes, and at night it was even more attractive when the lanterns began to glow. In the afternoon a vaudeville programme was given beneath a tent erected on the lawn. The first number was "Grandma's Minuet," charmingly given by Miss Nellie Colfax Smith, and a chorus of school children sang "The King of Song" for the second number. The soloist was Merle Bennett, and the members of the chorus, Edna Rachel Herrick, Edmund Littell and Donald Pickett. Mrs. John T. Brush, a picin a lavender gown and hat, read "The Pride of Battery B." and in response to an enthusiastic encore game "Matinal Musings." Miss Ethel Sellers gave the sailor's hornpipe, and Miss Ida Virginia Smith was charming in was number and the following one, feats of legerdemain, by Mr. Thomas Bard Arnold, were applauded enthusiastically. The programme committee under whose direction the vaudeville was given, included Miss Ida Smith, chairman, and Mrs. Nelson A. Gladding, Mrs. Charles Richard Williams, Miss Julia Sharpe, Miss Eva Wilson Smith. Miss Susan Thompson and Miss Emma Atkins. Outside the vaudeville tent there were a number of attractions. Beneath a tree which was draped with the American flag, and whose branches were outlined with Japanese lanterns, was set the lemonade table, shadowed by an imense Jap umbrella, and surmounted by a placard with these lines: "Not circus made Is this lemonade And if you would drink Five cents must be paid."

Mrs. Samuel E. Morss presided over the able, and her assistants were Miss Josephine Morss and Miss Mabel Talbott. Next door to the popular lemonade table was the confection stand, with a decoration of crimson rambler roses and presided over by Mrs. Arthur Deuel Gates, assisted by Charles N. Williams, Miss Ola Smith and Miss Eleanor Doll, of Lafayette. Serving the ices was a committee which included Mrs. Frank Athon Morrison, Mrs. and Miss Louise Rankin, assisted by a Irma Manegold. number of the members of the General St. Clair Chapter. The maze on the north side of the yard was a mystifying arrangement of canvas and darkness, and its mysteries Coleman and her guest, Miss Greer, of Mrs. Winchester were in charge of gate. Easy chairs and couches were arranged on the lawn and veranda, and everywhere the American flag, the society's emblem, was in evidence. The decoration committee included Miss Julia Sharpe, chairman, and Mrs. Caleb S. Denny, Mrs. Augustin Boice and Miss Elsie Langdon. turned into a ball room and there dancing until late in the evening. Newsboys' Band played for the dancing, and also gave numbers during the intermissions. The proceeds of the very delightful and successful entertainment will be
